INITIATION TECHNIQUES

STORY

Use a short story in a GDP topic like, Altitude is Everything.

A child once asked a balloon vendor, who was selling helium balloons, whether a blue balloon will go as high in the sky as a green balloon. The balloon vendor responded, it's not the colour of the balloon but what is inside that makes it go high.

FACTS, FIGURES & STATISTICS

Make sure your facts and figures are accurate; stating wrong facts works to your disadvantage.

Approximation is allowed in macro level figures. For example: Approximately 70 per cent of the Indian population stays in rural areas.

Do not approximate micro figures. For example, 'India has around 30 states' is wrong.

The bottom page is the main content, listing names and contact numbers. The handwriting is in black ink on a white background. The spreadsheet appears to be a record of attendees for an event, with columns for names, contact numbers, and possibly other identifying information. The text is dense and difficult to read due to the handwriting and the angle of the photos.

The seminar started with the introduction of AECC Global and the role it performs. The speaker initiated the session by briefing the students about the application process, the various intakes abroad and that most of the universities initiate their application process 1 year in advance. They explained the benefits of taking a specialised course over a normal diploma and suggesting Business Analytics as a good option for students of Commerce background. They informed the audience about the most popular student destinations with USA being the 1st, Canada 2nd, Australia 3rd and UK 4th. They pondered over the facts that a student should consider while deciding their preferred countries. US is committed to excellence, has dual specialisations and scope for research, gives the students financial support and provides them hands on training. Canada has exciting college life, high employment rate, low costs and easy immigration rules post completion of studies. Australia has some of the world's top universities with accredited programs, provides many scholarships to foreign students and has easy PR rules post studies. UK, though a little more expensive than the other countries, has a flexible and easy visa process with the opportunity to get IELTS waiver. Towards the end of the session, the speakers talked about how AECC can help them out in this process and resolved students' queries.
